Dear Mr. Kilgore:

We have now collected the materials you requested. These materials include emails from the email files of: - cpyror, "deleted items", "inbox", "PCI Directory", "Personal" and "sent items";

-ehughes, "deleted items", "inbox" and "sent items";

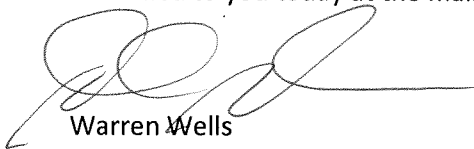

-lcallaghan, "inbox";

-stuckerpotter, "deleted items", "deletions", "archive on C drive" and "sent items"; and

-suzanneb, "Case".

A total of nine email messages were withheld from these materials because they are messages related to individual alumni who inquired about their own personal directory information with staff or PCI as they decided what information they wanted included in the directory. Five of these nine messages were duplicated in various files and were also removed for a total of fourteen. We withheld these messages to preserve the privacy rights of those individuals. Except as described, these messages contain no information regarding the contractual relationship with or interactions between the University and PCI.

These documents were too large to send via email and so we have compiled them on a flash drive which we mailed to you today at the mailing address in Somerville, MA that you provided in your initial inquiry.
